Yes, it's the small print but necessary so you know what and how your donations will be used.

DONATIONS TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Unless agreed to by authorized representatives of Friends of Kuilima, LLC (FOK) in writing, accompanying your donation to FOK, you have acknowledged and agree to the FOK donations terms and conditions. The following terms and conditions apply to all donations made by you, or may make in the future to FOK. Specifically, you acknowledge and agree;

1. Your donation is given by you as a free will offering without any compulsion or expectation attached to the same.
2. No goods, services and/or any other form of remuneration will be provided to you by FOK in exchange for your donation.
3. Your donation will be used by FOK at the sole discretion of the voting leadership of FOK. Although you may request that your donation be directed for a specific purpose, FOK is under no obligation to acknowledge or honor such requests.
4. Your donation is non-refundable.
5. Although FOK operates as a non-profit entity, you acknowledge and agree that your donation is NOT considered to be a charitable contribution and is not eligible for tax or other deductions.
6. You acknowledge and agree to hold FOK harmless of any liability, damage to you or your property or interests. You hereby release all claims against FOK at all times and for any reason.
7. FOK may, at its sole discretion, voluntarily share details regarding how donations were used in conducting business; however, FOK is under no obligation to notify you of the same. FOK is under no obligation to provide additional details that you may request and is under no obligation to provide more frequent updates to you or other donors.
8. These terms and conditions are subject to change without notice being given to you. You acknowledge and agree that any changes made to these terms and conditions shall be applied retroactively to January 25, 2022- when the PayPal® donation account was established.
